For the "Random Name Generator" brief, I made a few arrays for vowels and constants as well as a few more to help create a complete word. The script would get a random group of letters from the arrays and put them together.

I was unable to add a rule so a readable word could come out every time but, the script doesn't repeat the same word twice. I also tried to add a profanity filter into the script but, it doesn't work exactly.